Everyone is expected to help put out and put away equipment, every session. If you are unable to carry equipment, for whatever reason, please inform Mechelle before you start your course.

Agility rates are as follows:

Initial training £60 for 6 hours, as a block booking, with a £20 deposit, the remainder paid on the first night.

Further training £25 for 4 hours, as a block booking, paid in advance

Please check the website for the dates of training to ensure you are free. They may not always be consecutive weeks. No refunds can be made in the case of holidays or double bookings once the place is taken on a course and the course has started.

In the case of poor weather stopping training, the initial training will be extended by the relevant number of weeks.

In further training, weeks will be carried forward onto the next course and a discount applied to the following course of £6.25 for each week we called off training due to poor weather. Refunds will not be available. The same rules apply if the trainers cancel due to ill health.

I have understood that my dog must be 9 months of age, be social around other dogs and people. That my dog can recall to me and can stay in one spot for 20 seconds when I am 5 paces away. I understand that if my dog does not have these qualities then it will not be able to join in the training and that I will receive a partial refund of half of the course cost. If you are unsure your dog will meet the criteria, please ask for a free assessment.
